Foreword

THE prime purpose of the 1939 "Memento" staff has been to record, in convenient and enduring form, the people, the events, and the spirit of a year at McComb High School.

Have we succeeded?
. . . You decide.

THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Dedication

ALTHOUGH Miss MacDonald has not been with us for many years, she has proven herself worthy of this dedication. For the past two years she has been the faculty adviser for both the Newspaper and Annual of our school. Besides these two jobs she also teaches English I, II, III and French I, II. We congratulate her for her great work here in McComb High School, and we all think she is a good teacher as well as a very good friend.

“Meet The Producers”

THIS Annual which you are scanning is the final result of the earnest labors of the Annual Staff this year.

Probably the task of heaviest responsibility in compiling this annual fell to our editor, Charles Stout. The efforts of the Associate Editor, Geraldine Hector, and the Business Manager, Robert Gorby, can not be overlooked either. The circulating manager, Max Walters, had quite a job in collecting all the money from the various students who wanted an Annual worse than they wanted to pay for it. Joe King and Junior Latta had charge of selling ads which caused them plenty of running around. Perhaps Robert Rider and James Peneton had more fun in getting their contributions to this publication than any one else since they were the cameramen who took a great number of the pictures found throughout it. The editors of the various sections were as follows:

Senior Class . . Vera Fae Inbody, Underclass . . Edith Roether, Girls' Sports . . Myrtle Brickman, Boys' Sports . . Carl LaRue, Music . . Ruth Morrison, Calendar . . Rowena Rader and Pauline Smith, Features . . Gene Mackey, Activities . . Keitha Conine, Jokes . . Lucille Morrison, and Alumni . . Willa Gene Wright.

This staff was under the capable supervision of Miss MacDonald and Mr. Neiderhiser, the former to whom we have dedicated our Annual this year. We sincerely want to thank these two faculty members for the numerous problems which they so kindly solved for us.

Robert Rider received the medal for outstanding works in journalism this year.

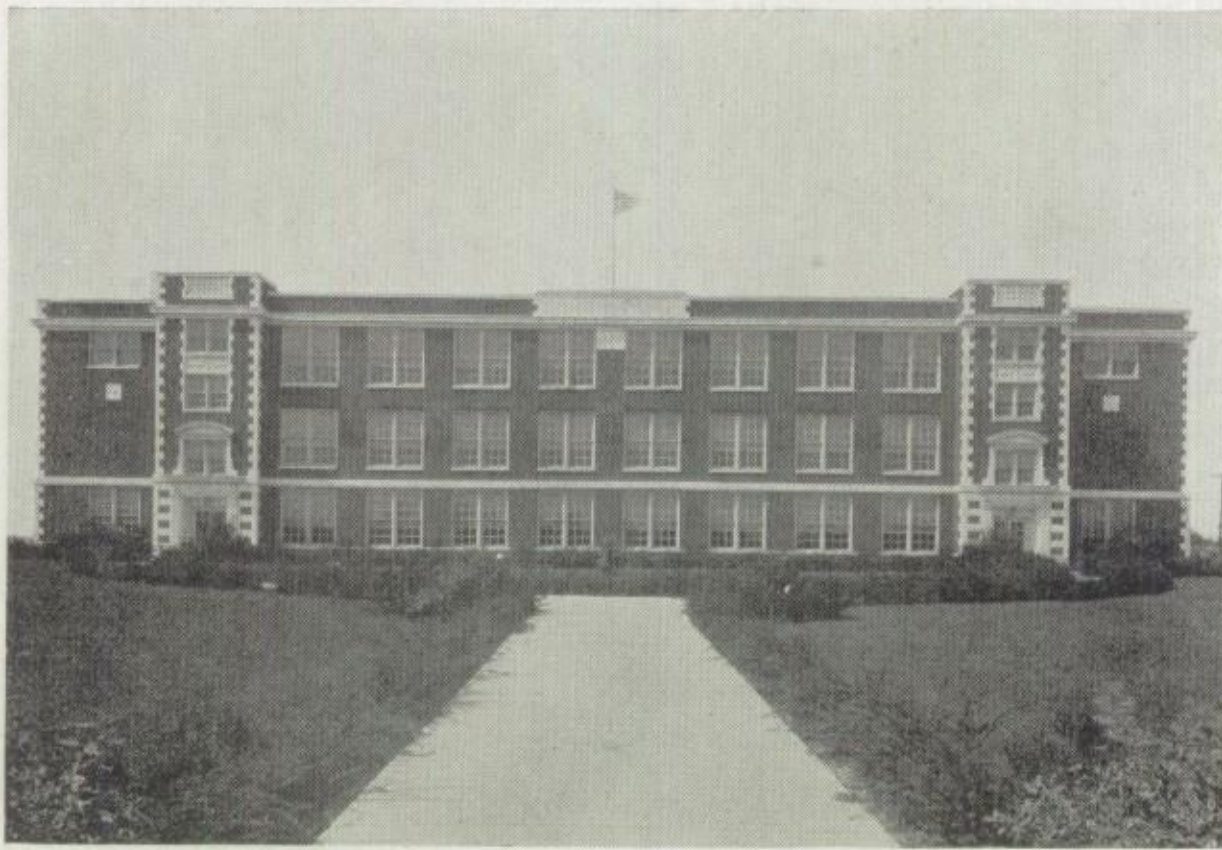

In order to improve our financial status the staff sponsored a skating party at Green Mills on March thirtieth. All the students in the various high schools in the county were invited to attend this event.

Despite the hard work connected with it, the entire staff has enjoyed publishing this Annual and hope as a reward for our efforts it will meet with the heartiest approval of the entire student body and all others who may wish to read it.

ADMINISTRATION

“Have You Forgotten?”

FIFTEEN years ago, a gala event was celebrated in this Community. The people were celebrating the opening of the new modern school building, pictured above.

We know that this is probably the first time in history that children were happy to see school start once again. (They could hardly wait to break the new building in).

We also know that the parents of this community were over-joyed to see the new building. It meant that their children would no longer be forced to attend school in the business block of McComb, marching from building to building to hold classes above business places or in empty stores.

This was the condition in 1921 following a severe windstorm leaving the old school building unsuitable for use.

We, of this community, are indeed fortunate in having such a wonderful building.

“The Men Behind The Gun”

BEHIND every successful school, there is a capable and hardworking School Board.

In this respect this community has more than its share. The School Board, composed of Roscoe Cusac (Pres.), Frank Wasson (Clerk), William Shoop, Jay Stough and Earl Gorby, meets once a month and threshes out the many difficult problems confronting every School Board.

This community is fortunate in having these “five good men and true”.

"Little Feet, Be Careful"

THE members of the high school student body decided to try something new this year and elected a Student Council to govern the actions of the scholars and improve the welfare of the school. After the Student Council had organized, it chose as its name the Juvenile Assembly.

This group is represented by five members from each class in high school. It chose as its faculty advisor, Mr. Neiderhiser, who is well noted for his sound advice and helpfulness.

The officers of the Juvenile Assembly are as follows: President . . Charles Stout, Vice President . . Edith Roether, Secretary . . Ruth Morrison, Treasurer . . Robert Gorby, and Reporter . . Carole Brickman.

Although this organization is still young and is by no means perfect yet, it has already accomplished several worthwhile things for the benefit of the school. Two recreation rooms have been created in which the students play such games as Ping Pong, Checkers, Bingo, and Chinese Checkers. These recreation rooms are a source of enjoyment to all and serve to keep congestion out of the corridors at noons and in the mornings.

The Juvenile Assembly has also adopted and enforced an excellent set of laws. The two which are most often broken are as follows: First, there shall be no running in the halls. Second, all students not in their home rooms when the five minute bell rings in the morning and at noon without a plausible excuse shall be duly punished. For disobeying these laws, the lawbreaker is usually required to write a theme.

This organization is divided into four committees: the Judicial, Ways and Means, Rules, and Recreational Committees. These committees take care of all the duties which come under their departments.

The Juvenile Assembly meets every other Friday at 11:15 to discuss various school problems and regulations. Although it has only been recently organized, with the aid and support of the faculty and student body, it can not help but be a great success in the future.

ACTIVITIES

Seated: Virgil McDougale, Ruth Carney, Gene Mackey, Vera Inbody, Myrtle Brickman, Elnora Meyer, Dwight La Rue.
 Standing: Jean Spitler, Jeanne Cusac, Mary Gazarek, Mr. Cramer.

“Chapel Bells”

THIS worthy group with the assistance of their faculty advisor, Mr. Cramer, prepares the excellent chapel programs which are given every Friday morning at nine o'clock.

This committee is composed of two representatives from each class. The chairman of it is Vera Fae Inbody and its secretary is Clara Belle Mitchell. The organization meets regularly every Monday at 11:15.

One of their first jobs was to select the chapel pianists, and Ruth Carney and Elnora Meyer were chosen for this duty which they have capably performed.

Due to the efforts of this committee, the chapel programs this year have been exceedingly interesting and well balanced. Each week the program is on a different topic such as Nature, Fellowship, Work, Perseverance, Cooperation, or Honesty in addition to many other interesting ones. The main features on the programs are usually speeches given either by students or outside speaker. Some of the best outside speakers we have heard this year are Rev. Worthman, Rev. Alspach, Rev. Camp, Dr. Herbert, and Rev. Watt. The student speakers must not be forgotten either, because they too are very interesting. The reading of the Scriptures, poems, and vocal or instrumental numbers, are usually rendered by various students throughout the program and it is always concluded by the singing of the Doxology in unison.

One of the finest chapel programs this year was that presented by Professor Vinaroff of Chicago and his pianist, Lawrence Smith, of Pontiac, Michigan. Mr. Smith displayed exceptional talent on both the piano and the accordion. Professor Vinaroff gave us a vocal solo which was followed by his fine talk on “Aim Higher”. Most of us probably remember that speech for its sincerity and humor.

All of us have undoubtedly enjoyed and derived much good from the chapel programs which were given this year. We realize this organization has put forth much effort and wish to compliment them upon their successful arrangement of our excellent chapel programs.

“Telling My Troubles To A Mule”

THE Future Farmers of America is an organization studying Vocational Agriculture which aims to become a portion of this fast progressing nation's farmers and agriculturists of tomorrow. This group is composed of twenty-four McComb High School boys who labor industriously under the efficient supervision of their instructor, Mr. Henderson.

Each individual in this group chooses one or more projects in this field which he endeavors to complete to the best of his ability. These projects range anywhere from the cultivation of potatoes, corn, oats, and wheat to the production of hogs, steers, sheep, poultry, and the keeping of farm accounts.

The officers of this organization are as follows: President . . Paul Aukerman, Vice President . . Junior Sharninghouse, Secretary . . Herman Dean, Treasurer . . Keith Scheele, Reporter . . Neil Curtis, and Watch Dog . . Bill Freed.

Early last fall five Freshmen and four upper classmen were initiated at the Green Hand initiation. Following this a weiner roast was enjoyed by all.

In December a pest hunt was started with the Rawson Chapter. A large number of pests were brought in and as a result of that the local boys beat Rawson by several thousand points.

This chapter was represented in the Apple and Potato judging contests again this year. The team was composed of Paul Aukerman, Keith Scheele, and Alva Lentz. They tied for ninth place and Keith tied for ninth high individual in the state. As a premium Keith received a ribbon from the Ohio Banker's Association and a ticket to a football game at Ohio State next fall.

Bill Freed and Earl Peneton were sent by this group as delegates to the F. F. A. Leadership Conference this year.

Paul Aukerman received a medal from the Ohio Ton Litter Club for producing two ton litters of pigs.

This organization is planning to enter judging teams in the livestock, poultry, crops and other contests to be held in June in Columbus. We wish those who enter these contests all sorts of good luck.

“Home On The ‘Range’”

THIS organization of high school girls is composed of those who wish to become future homemakers. Under the tutelage of their capable instructor, Miss Pifer, they study diligently to become expert culinary artists and fine seamstresses.

These girls are divided into three classes: the first year, second year, and third year. These meet separately with Miss Pifer each day for two periods of study and work. Perhaps the third year of study is the most interesting, since it is a Personality Club. In it the girls have made dresses, studied restaurant etiquette, introductions, and other valuable things this year which will enable them to be at ease in the social world. The first two years of Home Economics are spent mostly in learning the fundamentals of cooking and sewing.

These girls get a chance to put their learning into experience by helping serve lunches and washing dishes in the cafeteria at noons. They take turns at this with several helping each week.

The Home Economics Club elected the following officers this year: President . . Helen McCamey, Vice President . . Carol Inbody, Secretary . . Frances Rader, Treasurer . . Helen Thomas, and Reporter . . Ida Grace Lanker. They hold their meetings on the first Wednesday in every month. At Christmas they had a Christmas party.

The group hopes to raise fifty dollars by the end of the year in order to take a trip after school is out. If they raise that amount, they would like to go to Cleveland for an overnight visit. On January 27, they sponsored a pancake supper at the school house as a means for making money. On a cooking demonstration which they held, they made over eleven dollars.

This club is a faithful working and cooperative group which deserves to be commended for its zeal and efforts in the past year.

“Music Maestro, Please”

THE orchestra of McComb High School is rather small this year. This organization which was organized by Miss Moyer and is under her direction is slowly growing. Several members from the instrument class in the grades have been promoted to the orchestra. They are Carl Harden and Howard Kershner. Carl Shively was not present when the picture was taken. This group is composed of four violins, one clarinet, two saxophones, one cornet, one trumpet, two trombones, and the piano.

These musicians meet every Wednesday at nine o'clock for a forty-five minute practice. There are two seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, and six members from the grades in the group.

Four of the members are practicing as a quartet. They are Bobby Brickman, Carl Harden, Margaret Gorby, and Howard Kershner.

At the Armistice Day Program they made their first appearance of the year. Here they played a medley of patriotic numbers. The numbers were “Dixie” by Emmett, “America” by Carey, “Maryland, My Maryland”, and “The Star Spangled Banner” by Smith.

At the Senior play they appeared again. Here they played “Gliding Along” by Hatswell and “Golden Jubilee” by Kent.

At the Community Institute play they performed by playing “Jolly Coppersmith” by Peters, “Dawn on Our Farm” by Sanders before the play and “Up and Down” by Walker between the first and second acts.

The next program on which they appeared was the P. T. A. Program. They played “The Jolly Coppersmith” by Peters, “Up and Down” by Walker, and “Two Guitars”, a Russian Gypsy Song.

At the Junior play they played “Ciribiribin” by Pestalozza, and “Gliding Along” by Hatswell before the play.

At the Commencement they played three numbers. They were “On Guard” by Lowenthal, “Aida March” by Virde, and “Forever March” by Schrammel. The two senior orchestra members gave special numbers. They were Robert Gorby, who played “Song of India” by Rimsky-Korsakov, and Helen Thomas, who played the violin.

First Row: Jeanne Cusac, Joy Keeler, Marilyn Norris, Alice Poe, Ruth Morrison, Miss Moyer, Charlotte Brumbaugh, Lois Moorehead, Carol Norris, Eloise Woodruff, Lucille Strouse, Ida Grace Lanker, and June Harden.

Second Row: Keitha Conine, Mary Gazarek, Betty Engard, Rose Ann Johnston, Ida Mae Newell, Norma Norway, Eleanor White, Ellen Rader, Kathryn Roether, Nellie Lentz, Kathryn Strouse, Gene Wright, Francis Basil, Pauline Shoop, Vera Fae Inbody, and Gene Mackey.

Third Row: Margaret Gorby, Elnora Meyer, Marthelle Long, Pauline Smith, Marjorie Crook, Carol Inbody, Helen Deerwester, Virtue Lanker, Marjorie Shafer, Norma Freed, Helen Lanker, Geraldine Hector, Margaret Borgelt, Bernice Went, Myrtle Brickman, Rachel Linhart, Erythe Groves, and Edna Poe.

“Sing, Baby, Sing”

THE Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Moyer, was quite large this year.

It boasted a membership of forty-five girls. They organized their club this year, electing Vera Inbody, President; Carol Inbody, Vice President; and Pauline Shoop, Secretary. The president appointed two librarians at the beginning of the year. They were Joy Keeler and Ida Mae Newell. At the half year the president appointed two different librarians. They were Eloise Woodruff and June Harden. These girls collected and distributed the music.

These music lovers meet every Tuesday and Thursday at eleven-fifteen. They practice for forty-five minutes. They sing classical, two and three part music. These talented, young song-birds enjoy singing and are striving to sing well.

The Glee Club's first performance this year was at the P. T. A. meeting where they sang “Schubert's Serenade” by Schubert and “The Glow Worm” by Lincke.

The Girls next appearance was at the Christmas Chapel program. Here they sang the French Christmas Carol “The First Noel” and “Legend” by Fagge.

At the Good Friday Program they sang “Were You There?” by Burleigh.

At the County Musical this spring these girls sang “Ma Lindy Lou” by Strickland and “Winter Lullaby” by Koven-Riegger.

The girls also took part in the pageant which was put on by the whole school this spring.

This year there was a music club organized. It was composed of girls in glee club or orchestra who have musical talent. The name of this club was the “Dillitante” meaning some one interested in the art just for the love and enjoyment of it. They elected as President, Carol Inbody; Vice President, Eleanor White; Secretary, Kathryn Strouse. These girls studied the history of music and several early composers. Miss Moyer was their advisor. A meeting was held every two weeks.

First Row: Max Gangle, Sam Shoop, Earl Peneton, Miss Moyer, Keitha Conine, Steve Bocik, Jim Peneton, Robert Gallant.
 Second Row: Joe Wein, Charles Worthman, Paul Aukerman, Alva Lentz, Doyle Byal, Dean Ewing, and Rex Inbody.

"The Fellow Who's Singing"

THE Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Moyer does not have so many members as the Girls' Glee Club but they can sing, nevertheless. Their capable accompanist is Keitha Conine. They have a membership of nine boys. They meet every Monday and Wednesday at eleven-fifteen for practice. They elected the following officers: President, Paul Aukerman; Vice-President, Robert Gallant and Secretary, James Peneton.

Their first appearance was at the P. T. A. program. Here they sang "Hoodah Day" a chanty, and "Down by the Sea" by Penn.

The boys also sang at the Community Institute. Their numbers were "Dedication" by Franz, and "Rhyme of the Country Road" by Cain.

At the January P. T. A. program a member of this group, Robert Gallant, sang "In Old Madrid" by Trotire.

At the February P. T. A. program the boys sang "Lawdy, What a Lonesome Day" by MacRae and "Rhyme of the Country Road" by Cain.

These boys also took part in the school's spring pageant. They sang and were also in the minuet.

"Put Your Heart In A Song"

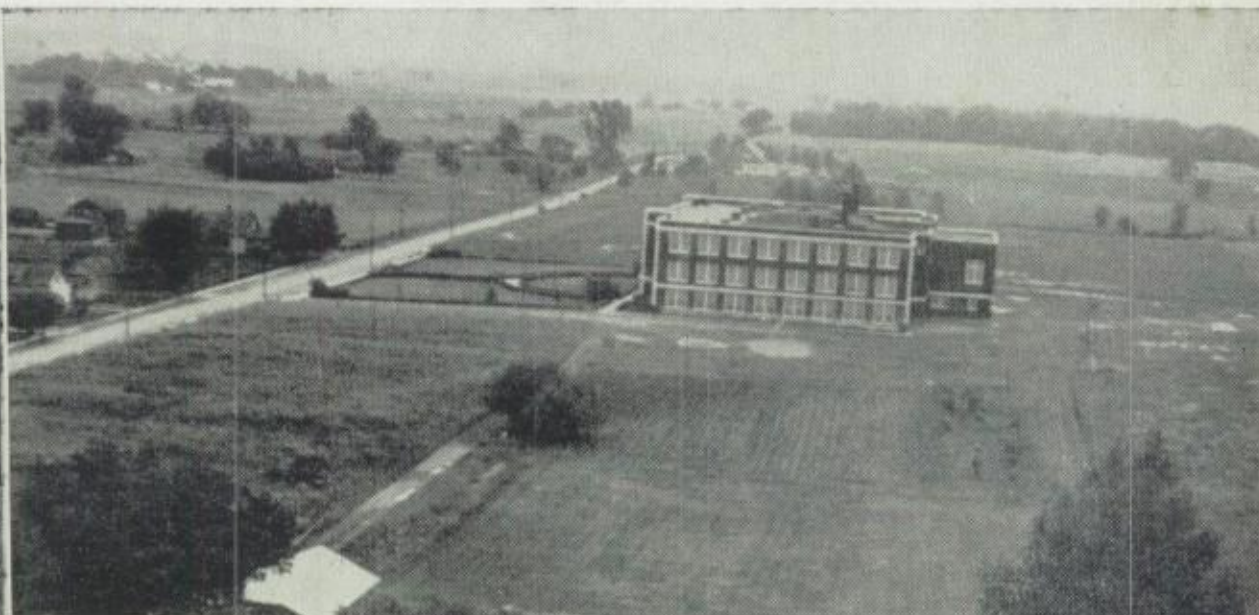

THE first of the Mixed Chorus was at the Armistice Day program. They sang "The Home Road" by Carpenter and "God of Our Fathers" by Warren.

This group went to Findlay and sang Christmas Carols. The girls sang the French Christmas Carol "The First Noel". The entire group sang "O, Holy Night" by Adam.

At the Christmas Chapel program they sang "O Holy Night" by Adam and "Silent Night" by Franz Gruber.

At the January P. T. A. program Eleanor White, Willa Gene Wright, Robert Gallant, and Paul Aukerman sang "Cara-Nina" a Spanish-American folk song.

At the County Musical they sang "Keep a Knockin'" by Pallma and "Now the Day is Over" by Barnaby.

“So Little Time And So Much To Do”

FEW students really appreciate the work the janitors do at the schoolhouse. It is the janitors' duty to keep the schoolhouse clean, comfortable, and warm.

The janitors get up early on cold winter mornings to see that the school building is sufficiently warm, and they keep it warm during the day.

In Merle Stout and Art Smith we have a pair of fine, dependable janitors. They are always good-natured and can be depended upon to keep things in order. Merle and Art have a big job in keeping the school in order, but they do it in a commendable way, and they are deserving of any praise they may get.

ATHLETICS

Rowena Rader

Eleanor White

“Feelin’ High And Happy”

VIM, Vigor, and Vitality plus Personality made this threesome outstanding as cheerleaders.

Always johnny-on-the-spot, they led the cheering during football and basketball seasons with such pep and enthusiasm as to cause the student cheering section to respond immediately.

It seems pretty good to any team—especially when that team happens to be on the short end of the score—to hear the home gang cheering with might and main. This we can truthfully say of our cheering section this year and I’m sure that no little credit is due to Bernice, Rowena, and Eleanor.

Eleanor White capably led the school songs when we were in the mood for music. Mr. Winter also proved to be a great help in coaching these girls on cheering tactics.

Our cheering section, we are proud to say, was acclaimed by many to be the best at the County Tournament. Our versatile cheerleaders had many clever formations all through the basketball season. The originality of these formations also attracted the attention of many fans at the tournament in Findlay.

"You've Got To Be A Football Hero"

THE football team this year had a rather poor season, winning only one game. They defeated Liberty 24-0, while in the other games McComb couldn't quite get a score across. The latter part of the season was played with second-string players, the first team having been suspended after losing to Vanlue 72-0.

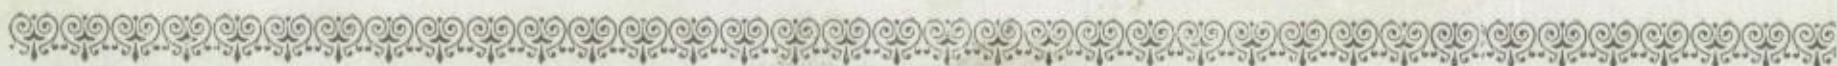

Prospects for next year's team, however, look much brighter, as only five players were lost by graduation. Most of this year's first team will be back, with several sophomores who got a lot of experience this year. There are also some freshmen who saw service and look quite promising. Next year's team should be an experienced outfit, with all of the players having seen some action. They should bring McComb's football fortune, which has been at a low ebb the last few years, to the top again.

The Seniors lost by graduation are Captain Joe King, Charles Stout, Robert Gorby, Max Walters, and Bill Freed. Orville Beckwith and Earl Anderson, however, have moved away and will not be available for next year. Both are lettermen and will be greatly missed.

Coach Daniel made several shifts in his lineup during the season in an effort to find a winning combination, but only once, in the Liberty game, did McComb emerge victorious. Captain Joe King started at center, but later was shifted to the backfield to bolster the running attack. Chuck Stout, last year's quarterback, started at end but changed to the backfield later. When Captain King changed positions, Bob Gorby took over the center duties. Other players were alternated between the line and the backfield, but McComb just couldn't click.

The team was fortunate in having no serious injuries during the season, the most serious being several sprained ankles.

With a veteran, experienced team to take the field, together with several promising freshmen, McComb should be in the thick of the fight in next year's race. The school will be behind them and will be doing what it can to bring the trophy to McComb.

“Gems Of The Gym”

THIS basketball season was not successful according to games won and lost. But the McComb lassies don't have spirits easily crushed and they went through the season fighting hard whether they gained a victory or were defeated.

When the season opened, four letter-girls were back to form the nucleus of this year's team; namely, Myrtle Brickman, Vera Inbody, Ila Mae Farthing, forwards; and Pauline Shoop, guard. Imogene Foltz and Edna Poe were always in the “thick of it” while Annabelle Foltz, Margaret Gorby, Lois Moorhead, Virtue Lanker, Bernice Went, and Ellen Rader were ready for action when they were needed.

Perhaps the most thrilling game played all season was the one with Rawson when McComb managed to squeeze out a one-point margin. The gun went off with McComb winning 14-13.

The contest with Arlington can probably be called the girls' most successful game of the season. McComb led all the way. The final score was 24-11 while the scoreboard showed 13-3 at the intermission.

Although Mt. Cory and Mt. Blanchard handed us a defeat, the games were interesting. Both of these tilts were strong defensive ones.

Carol Inbody, student manager, was “right there” at every game and very capably handled her respective duties.

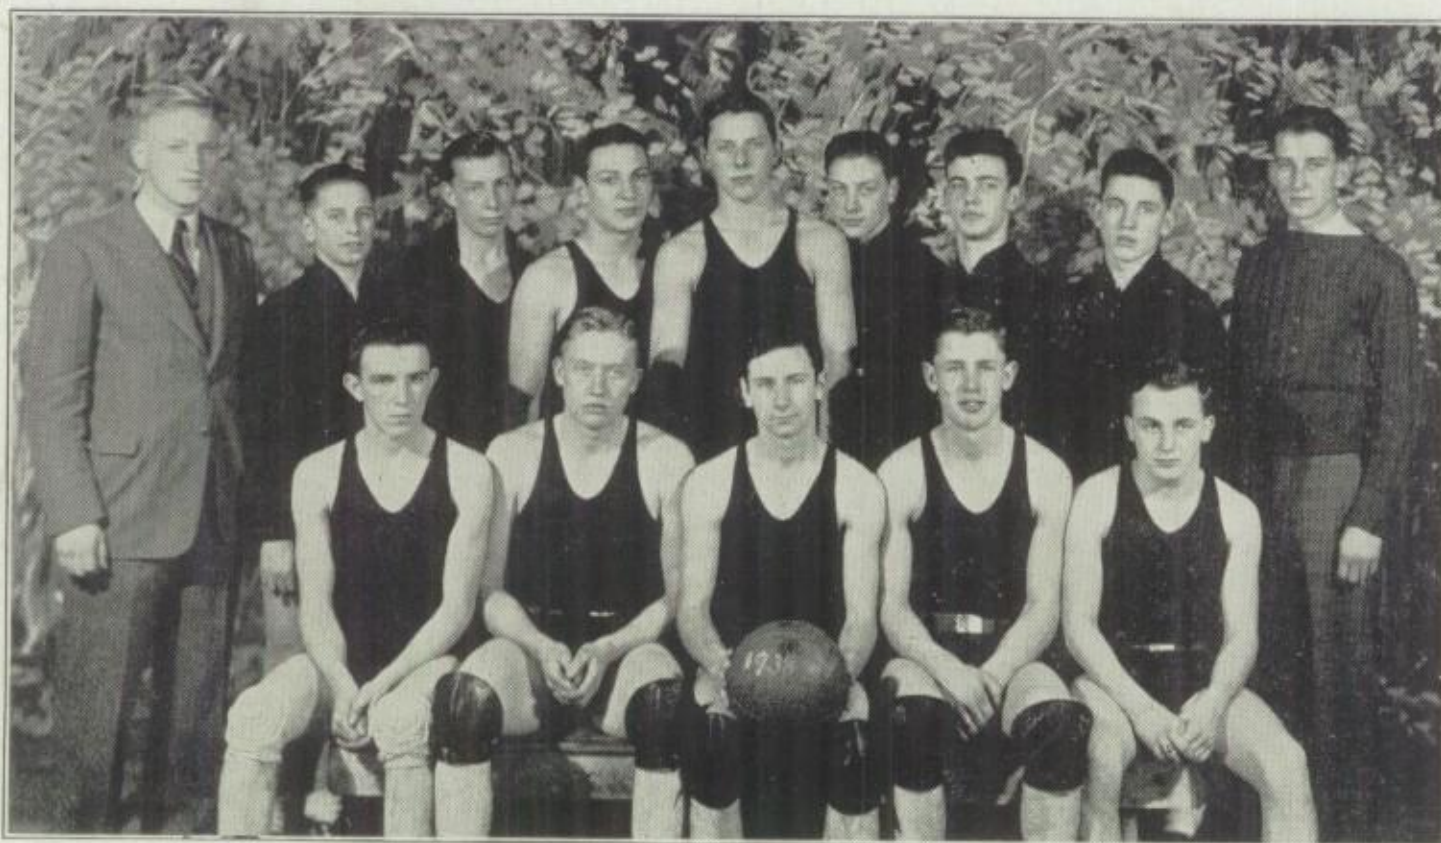

Miss England, assistant coach, was always ready to lend helpful advice. She traveled faithfully with the team and was the one whose enthusiasm for the game often spurred the girls on.

To Mr. Bowers, who gave of his time to coach the girls, goes the gratitude of every member of the team. He was always optimistic concerning every game—even when we were behind.

Four girls will not return to basketball next year because of graduation. They are: Myrtle Brickman, Honorary Captain; Vera Inbody, Ila Mae Farthing, and Pauline Shoop.

“The Snarling Panthers At A Peaceful Moment”

THE boys' basketball team this season won five county games and lost three, ending in a tie with Arcadia for third place. The season's record, though, shows five wins against six losses. McComb lost to Van Buren, Mt. Blanchard, and Vanlue in league play, but lost twice to Dunkirk and once to North Baltimore in out-of-county games.

In the tournament, McComb beat Mt. Blanchard and Rawson to gain the semi-final round. They lost to Mt. Cory, however, and then were defeated by Arcadia in the consolation round.

Joe King was the team's high scorer, and for the second year was placed on the all-county coaches' team. Chuck Stout was placed on the second all-county team. Joe, Captain Stout, and George Norway were the only men lost by graduation.

Prospects for next year look very bright with four lettermen back, in addition to several other experienced players who saw action this year. The lettermen are Byal, Scheele, Rinehart and Latta. Sharninghouse, Weeks, Farthing, and Walker also saw some service. So with these veteran players back McComb should have a fine team next year.

“Havin’ Ourselves A Time”

SOPHOMORES this year; and having ourselves a grand time!

Being Freshmen last year didn't prevent our having a good time. With Pat Rider as our first president, we started our happy high school days. We voted blue and silver as our class colors, and the sweet pea as class flower. We showed remarkably good sense for Freshmen, who usually want to conquer the world in one stroke by choosing the motto “Up the Ladder, Step by Step”. After the annual Freshman initiation we started “having ourselves a time” in earnest. We set our goals to lead in Music, Sports, Scholarship or perhaps all three.

This year we are nearing our goals and perhaps working a little harder. We elected Dick Walker, President; Gerald Woodruff, Vice-President; Marthelle Long, Secretary; Virtue Lanker, Treasurer; Keitha Conine, Reporter.

If we worked a little harder in studies, we also worked harder at having a good time. We sponsored a skating party at Green Mills and had a hilarious party and scavenger hunt at the school in February.

We were sorry to lose Orville Beckwith who moved to Mt. Blanchard and Earl Anderson who moved to Arlington.

Try Matching These Sophomores with Their Doings and Sayings:

- 1. This “bright” boy donned a corset at a party.
- 2. “Starch my bloomers”.
- 3. Privately known as Richard “The Lion Hearted”.
- 4. “S-I-T down, we’ve seen you.”
- 5. “Mother, you humiliate me!”
- 6. “Huey” and on the bridge.
- 7. “Quiet now, quiet now.” (Freshman admirer).
- 8. “Aw, satchel pants.”
- 9. Sophomore heartbreaker. (Privately known as Napoleon).
- 10. My frog had little frogs. (Excuse for being late to class).

First Row: Roxie Adams, Helen Deerwester, Lucille Morrison, Doyle Byal, Dick Rinehart, Edith Roether, Rowena Rader, Ruth Morrison, and Joy Keeler.

Second Row: Imogene Foltz, Dorothy Wise, Gene Mackey, Bernice Ramsey, Garnet Karns, Ruth Carney, Mary Emma Rader, Margaret Gorby, Kathleen Brown, Clara Belle Mitchell, and Francis Basil.

Third Row: Virgil McDougale, James Peneton, Herman Dean, Edward Kersh, Junior Sharninghouse, Charles Moore, Alva Lentz, Dean Ewing, Nelson Weeks, Keith Scheele, Joe Wein, Junior Latta.

"It Won't Be Long Now . . ."

WELL, well, feature that—Juniors already. We ceased being greenies and softies and no one has thought of a name to upset the dignity of being Juniors.

We chose to head our class this year: Dick Rinehart, President; Doyle Byal, vice-president; Edith Roether, secretary; Rowena Rader, treasurer; Lucille Morrison, reporter.

We spent the year absorbing knowledge (we hope) and filling our treasury in order to give the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. We had a lot of fun doing it all. As usual we sold candy to fill up the bottomless sweet tooth of the school. We also gave the play "This Night Beware."

We had a lot of fun at a weiner roast at Ruth Morrisons' and a swell party, including a scavenger hunt, at "Bing" Ramseys'.

Dorothy Heers left us for Findlay High, Howard Phipps went to Rutland, and Garnet Karnes moved to Bloomdale.

M. H. S.

The Juniorian troop presented, on April 4, "This Night Beware", a thrilling, mystery comedy.

Velma Bayne (Rowena Rader) gave a party in a haunted tavern. Ghosts and witches stalked, Madame Zora (Imogene Foltz) supplied more of those chills while Lazarus and Sukey (Doyle Byal, Ruth Morrison) darkey servants, and Harriet Hotchkiss and Tommy Meadows (Lucille Morrison and Dick Rinehart), jittery white folks supplied those laughs.

The ghost of Black Crow Inn turned out to be Alan Blaire (Keith Scheele), the love interest of Velma. The "ghost" was cleared of charges of robbery when the real thief, Francis Mallory (Junior Sharninghouse) was scared out of his wits by the super-natural happenings at the party and confessed to the robbery.

"It's Time

" 'Aloha' "

IN September 1927, we, the class of 1939, entered the McComb Village School for the first time. During the first eight years of our school life we learned much, and probably thought we knew more. Nevertheless, we kept looking forward to the time when we would enter high school.

It was in the Fall of 1935 that fifty-five "greenies" entered high school as Freshmen. After becoming accustomed to our surroundings we elected the following class officers: President, Charles Stout; Vice President, Geraldine Hector; Secretary, Myrtle Brickman; Treasurer, Joan Williams; and Reporter, Carol Inbody. We chose blue and gold as our class colors, and the Tearose as our class flower. Our motto—"Launched, But Not Anchored."

The first formal welcoming into high school was the annual initiation by the "dignified Seniors." In March, the class was entertained at the country home of Robert Gorby. We closed our books in May, having endured the first struggle of high school activities.

As Sophomores, we elected Charles Stout, President; Myrtle Brickman, Vice President; Elnora Meyer, Secretary; and Mary Matyas, Treasurer. The class enjoyed a weiner roast at the home of Ruth Brickman in October. Thus we completed another chapter of our school career.

In the Fall of 1937 we again entered the school of knowledge, looking forward to a busy and prosperous year. We elected as class officers—Charles Stout, President; Vera Fae Inbody, Vice President; Max Walters, Secretary; Robert Rider, Treasurer; and Geraldine McMaster, Reporter. The class was entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Carol Inbody in October. During the year we had charge of the candy office and were thus able to banquet the Seniors in May. The theme carried out was "The Last Round-Up." We also successfully presented the play, "Hot Copy." The cast included Geraldine Hector, Charles Stout, George Norway, Kathryn Strouse, Carol Inbody, Max Walters, Joe King, Pauline Shoop, Elnora Meyer and Robert Gorby. The class held another party in April at the home of Joe King. The books were closed on our third year, and we were anticipating the coming year when we would be Seniors.

Shortly after school opened in September, 1938, we elected class officers for our Senior year. They were: Charles Stout, President; Joe King, Vice President; Carol Inbody, Secretary; Elnora Meyer, Treasurer; and Geraldine McMaster, Reporter. On November 29, 1938, we successfully presented the play, "Your Face Is Familiar." The cast included Charles Stout, Dorothy McDougale, Geraldine McMaster, Geraldine Hector, Max Walters, Joe King, Carl LaRue, Virginia Semler, Myrtle Brickman, and Carol Inbody.

Our educational journey through school will end in May, 1939 with the Commencement Exercises and Baccalaureate Services. Many of the members of our class have given the school the best of their talents in Music, Athletics, Journalism, and Scholarship.

As we, the class of 1939, graduate from our Alma Mater, M. H. S., we realize that we have just completed the first lap of our journey across the sea of life. Before us lies a wide and still somewhat unexplored sea, for we are "Launched, But Not Anchored."

TRIAL

Mr. Neiderhiser's Senior Civics Class, in an endeavor to learn more about court procedure in the United States, held a mock trial.

In the case of the State of Ohio versus Robert Rider, Norman Rayle and Betty Moorhead, the defendants were tried for their lives on charges of robbery and murder.

They were nobly defended by their attorney, Max Walters. Charles Stout acted as state's attorney. On the bench sat Judge Joe King. Other characters were:

Baliff	Robert Gorby	Sheriff	Dorothy McDougale
Clerk of Courts	Vera Inbody	Chief of Police	Richard Rayle
Court Stenographer	Willa Gene Wright	Coroner	George Norway

Witnesses were: Myrtle Brickman, Carol Inbody, Robert Gorby, Virginia Semler, Mary Matyas, Ila Mae Farthing, Edna Dishong, Helen Bocik, and Martin Kumeck. Other members of the class served on the jury.

"The Future"

The other day when I was in Professor Cramer's laboratory I found his senseless-sensational time reverser, I turned the dials and sure enough I found what the Class of '39 had done or undone.

George Norway is now leading an expedition to bushiest Africa in search of a Flat Foot Floogie.

Kate Strouse is a Red Cross nurse in Toogoland. During the absence of catastrophies she is teaching the little 'eathens to recite Shakespeare.

Willa Gene Wright has a fifteen minute program over station XXX every morning. "Hints to housewives on how to keep hubby."

Edna Dishong is passing out books and smiles at the Grandville Public Library. She allows no sleeping in her domain.

Joe King, having taken up wrestling, reached the pinnacle of his success in the grunt and groan society by defeating the champion, the "Grappling Gorilla", in straight falls in one hour and sixty-five minutes.

Helen Eddington, now a famous lawyer, is defending "Mich the Lich" in a sensational case.

Max Walters, America's number one screen idol and star of "OGEE", finds his football technique convenient in getting through the lines of adoring femmes.

Robert Gorby has added a "ski" to his name, grown long hair and a temperament. He has all Europe at his feet since a recent concert tour.

Dorothy McDougale and Elnora Meyer are operating Le Night Maree Hat Shoppe, selling their original chapeaux to the elite of Deweyville.

Betty Moorhead, M. D., has become famous for her cure of jitterbugitis.

Charles Stout, B. A., M. A., Ph. D., etc., is editing a paper supporting tooth paste and severely condemning tooth powder as a detriment to society and a menace to the country.

Robert Rider is editing a photographic magazine in opposition to Mr. Stout. He intends to prove by his excellent pictures that tooth powder is the thing and that tooth paste is this country's most potent evil. Witness the quarrels a tube of paste, squeezed from the wrong end, can bring. He uses as a model for his ideal (tooth powder) smile girl, Maxine Hector.

The former Mary Matyas and Virginia Semler are now playing important roles in the current hits of Broadway, "Bees in Your Bonnet" and "Git Up Dobbin"

Frances Rader has a dancing studio specializing in ball-room dancing for the layman. Her slogan is: "Dance with my instructors first. They wear steel shoes, shinguards, and carry heavy accident insurance.

Paul Aukerman, who is a very successful farmer, in his spare time is carrying on intensive scientific research on the perplexing problem, "Why does the chicken cross the road?"

Former Helen Bocik and Rachel Linhart have opened up a swank cooking school, to teach prospective husbands how to cook in case wifely ever goes on a diet.

Carl La Rue has just published a very successful book, "Tiny Tales to Tiny Tots", all about "Tootsie", the frog.

Geraldine Hector has returned from Paris after dusting her hands of a conglomeration of lovelorn nobility, including two counts, a marquis, and a pretender to the throne of Tha-Wah.

Former Helen McCamey acquired one-third interest in a prosperous business by using her eyes and personality on the boss.—P. S. She also acquired the boss.

The basketball team of Townwood High School captured last place and the tin cup this season. The team is sponsored by Vera Fae Inbody, socialite and former tennis champ.

Martin Kumek divides his time between his prosperous farm and fishing. Says that if fishing interferes with farming he will quit . . . farming.

Richard and Norman Rayle have about abandoned their theory that pork can be produced on the lot. They say that the old method of first the corn and then the pork produces better results.

Under the tutelage of Ida Grace Lanker, the seventh grade of North Baltimore Junior High finished this school year with no grade lower than Z—.

Bill Freed is an announcer over station STK. He can be heard every Tuesday night at 8:30 urging you to guy the sensational new odorless sandwich spread, made of limburger cheese and onions.

The former Carol Inbody is now swinging it at the Metropolitan and delighting the denizens of the diamond horseshoe.

The Former Jerry McMaster, that delightful hostess and mistress of "Nooky Manor", is planning to entertain the Count of Boo, on his visit to the U. S.

Myrtle Brickman won great praise from art lovers all over the world when she exhibited her masterpiece "Beauty of a Mud Puddle" at a recent exhibit.

Carole Brickman is now superintendent of a swank girls' school. Every graduate is guaranteed a suitable catch.

Helen Thomas has originated a new dance step that has left the big apple nothing but a core. The creation is called the "Lil' Abner Hop".

Annabelle Rozelle and Mary Jo Warren are successful homemakers. In their spare time they have published a cookbook, guaranteed to read so simply that even brides can use it with a slight degree of success.

Lucille Strouse is now a nurse in a large hospital. She has her eye on a doctor whom she expects to catch before another year rolls on.

Pauline Shoop is scouring the country in search of masculine talent for the musical comedy hit "Gold Mines of 1945".

Dale Brecht is now teaching his highly scientific methods of farming to the farmers of Timbuctoo by special commission of the French government.

Minnie Beck, society reporter on the Tatler-Bla, reports in her Peekaboo column that Eloise Woodruff is trying matrimony for the nth time.

Julia La Rue, finding dishes to be her worst problem in her new home has discovered how best to solve this problem. She says, "Let your husband do them!" Simple, isn't it?

"We Seniors Are SO Generous"

We, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, County of Hancock, State of Ohio, being adjudged sound of mind and memory, and desiring to dispose of our possessions, both valuable and otherwise, in a manner legal and just, do hereby make and declare this our last will and testament.

To the Juniors we bequeath our dignity and stateliness, provided they don't become conceited at owning such valuable possessions.

To the sophomores, we bequeath our highly developed intellects, hoping they make good use of them.

To the Freshmen we bequeath our never failing patience, which they will find very useful during the next three years.

To Mr. Parrett we bequeath our ability as Romeos and Don Juans, so he may have a wife to care for him in his old age.

To Mr. Neiderhiser we bequeath our interesting, educational, and well-prepared speeches for future study.

To Mr. Winter we bequeath all our yearnings for Hawaii, hoping he may spend a vacation there some time.

To Mr. Cramer we bequeath our good behaviour during chapel, hoping he finds it useful.

To Mr. Daniel we bequeath all our broken ping-pong balls, and also all our spare time so he may practice love making.

To Mr. Henderson we bequeath our ingenuity and inventive genius, and our ability to get into (and out of) trouble.

To Miss Pifer we bequeath all we know about Latin, although we admit it isn't much.

To Miss England we bequeath the many hours spent learning to type and write shorthand.

To Miss MacDonald we bequeath our boldness and audacity, but she must promise not to become a prize-fighter.

To Miss Moyer we bequeath all our musical talent so she can get on Major Bowes' program.

To the janitors we bequeath seriousness and solemnity, and all the gum they find sticking on desks and under seats.

I, Paul Aukerman, do hereby will my ability to raise a ton litter of pigs to Kermit Farthing.

I, Minnie Beck, do hereby will my beautiful curls to Jim Peneton, but he must promise to keep them well groomed.

I, Helen Bocik do hereby will my ability to play the guitar to Neil Curtis, so he may serenade the girls.

I, Dale Brecht, do hereby will my love-making ability to Alvin Rozelle, provided he doesn't become a bigamist.

I, Carol Brickman, do hereby will my dignity to Eleanor White and Edna Poe.

I, Myrtle Brickman, do hereby will my ability as an artist to Max Gangle.

I, Ruth Brickman, do hereby will my health and vitality to June Hardin.

I, Edna Dishong, do hereby will my slim figure to Forrest Butler, hoping he takes good care of it.

I, Helen Eddington, do hereby will my cute giggle to Jeanne Cusac.

I, Ila Mae Farthing, do hereby will my three-point landings on the basketball floor to Imogene Foltz.

I, Bill Freed, do hereby will my graceful and dignified walk to Bernice Ramsey.

I, Robert Gorby, do hereby will my hearty laugh to Dean Ewing, providing he doesn't ruin it hunting paper-stretchers.

I, Geraldine Hector, do hereby will my beautiful blonde hair to Corliss Leib.

I, Maxine Hector, do hereby will my dimples to Joe Lenhart.

I, Carol Inbody, do hereby will my ability to sing to the talented Carl's brother, Dwight La Rue.

I, Vera Inbody, do hereby will my good nature and even temper to Alice Poe.

I, Joe King, do hereby will my absences the morning after the night before to Raymond Moorhead.

I, Martin Kumek, do hereby will my height to Lucille Morrison, on condition she doesn't make herself a menace.

I, Ida Grace Lanker, do hereby will my shyness to Herman Dean.

I, Carl LaRue, do hereby will my ability to write poetry to Earl Peneton, provided he doesn't write too many love poems to the Freshmen girls.

I, Julia LaRue, do hereby will my attentiveness in class to Maxine Wasson, knowing she is badly in need of it.

I, Rachel Linhart, do hereby will my calmness to Donna Kersh.

I, Helene McCamey, do hereby will my uncontrollable giggling to Steve Bocik. Ruth Bartlebaugh.

I, Dorothy McDougale, do hereby will my uncontrollable giggling to Steve Bocik.

I, Geraldine McMaster, do hereby will my army officer to Nellie Lentz, except in time of war.

I, Mary Matyas, do hereby will my ability to get out of the Assembly to Ladonna Hamby and Jeanette Rider.

I, Elnora Meyer, do hereby will my position as chapel pianist to Charles Worthman.

I, Betty Moorhead, do hereby will my habit of raising my eyebrows to Maxine Miller.

I, George Norway, do hereby will my position as "creek boy" at the golf course to Ellen Rader.

I, Frances Rader, do hereby will my soberness to Keitha Conine, but she must not become as sober as the Sphinx.

I, Norman Rayle, do hereby will my quiet, calm dignity to Lee Dorman, provided he uses it to good advantage.

I, Richard Rayle, do hereby will my soft voice and calm manner to Edward Kersh.

I, Robert Rider, do hereby will my knowledge of electricity to Roxie Adams, providing I get it back when she gets married.

I, Anna Belle Rozelle, do hereby will my perpetual habit of chewing gum to Mary Gazarek.

I, Virginia Semler, do hereby will my flirtatious nature to Dorothy McQuiston.

I, Pauline Shoop, do hereby will my many dates and late hours to Kathleen Brown.

I, Charles Stout, do hereby will my ability to argue without getting angry to Anna Belle Foltz.

I, Kathryn Strouse, do hereby will my poise and stature to Joe Wien.

I, Lucille Strouse, do hereby will my place in Dale's heart to Marjorie Crook, if Dale doesn't mind.

I, Helen Thomas, do hereby will my ability to play the violin and to dance to Junior Sharninghouse, provided he does both at the same time.

I, Max Walters, do hereby will my ability to impersonate a woman to Joe Miklovic.

I, Mary Jo Warren, do hereby will my saucy temperament to Edith Roether, provided she doesn't start a family quarrel.

I, Eloise Woodruff, do hereby will my interests in Rawson to Dorothy Wise, providing she gets to school in time to take attendance.

I, Willa Gene Wright, do hereby will my excitable temperament to Lois Moorhead.

"In Memory Of:"

Carl LaRue

For dear old Carl we all did mourn
Died ninety years after he was born.

Pauline Shoop

Liberty one week, Arlington the next
Now it's St. Peter for weeks of rest.

Miss Moyer

Miss Moyer was taken from this world
To stand as guard at gates that are pearled.

Joe Wein

Joe Wein now lies here
The result of a licking just this year.

Miss Pifer

Dentists were my weakness—that's all.

Dick Rinehart

Dick, in life, a piano did play
Now he strums a harp all day.
Maybe.

Mr. Winter

He told of the speech at Gettysburg
Antietam and Bull Run
What without Winter
Would this world ever done.

Maxine Wasson

Here lies Max with her heart at ease
"Mother won't let me but I'll do what I please."

Gab Gorby

Paul Robert Gorby lies underneath
He had to face St. Peter without his front teeth.

"The Moving Finger Writes, And Having Writ Moves On"

SEPTEMBER—

6. Yes, we're back again. Not the same crowd, for we have lost our dignified Seniors and have some more green horns to "bring up".

7-8. The "Freshies" are still lost. My, were we that dumb?

9. Everything getting under way, class officers chosen.

16. Freshmen Initiation. Humpf! huff! just wait till we're Seniors! They didn't mind the initiation, it was the pillows they had to wear for days after.

Mr. Herbert talked at our first chapel program of the year.

Played our first football game of the season with Arcadia. I guess the boys had too much carnival, anyway something was wrong. Can't you guess? We lost.

21. School newspaper organized. Have we a "nose for news"! Only some "hate the scandalizer to pieces".

Juniors opened Candy Office and also a credit account.

30. Tackled Van Buren in football only they tackled us. We haven't given up hope yet.

Chapel program given by Juniors.

Junior class had a weiner roast at Ruth Morrison's. Who says weiners and watermelons won't mix. I always thought it was a sin to steal but maybe watermelons are exempt.

OCTOBER—

1. One month of school gone. How time flies!

3. Senior class pictures taken, in fact the whole high school got to "watch the birdie". I just wonder if all the vacant seats in the assembly were because they were getting their picture taken? . . . ?

4. Junior class picked out rings. Gee, aren't they "doozies"?

5. Home Ec. party. Wow! What a party. Can those gals cook!

7. Played football at Mt. Blanchard. They beat the socks off us. What is the matter?!

Chapel program by Sophomores. Topic—Reward.

10. Student Council organized. Who won't "walk chalk" now?

14. Played Liberty in football at McComb. Get ready for a shock. We beat them.

Chapel by Freshies on Test of Life. Those Freshies know more than you have any idea they do.

19. Science classes went to the Sugar Beet Factory at Findlay. Whose lipstick did "Shiny" have on the way coming back?

21. Chapel Speaker—Mr. Worthman.

Played Cory. We were defeated. How sad!

22. Chapel on Navy Day. Who wrote those speeches?

27. Proofs of Senior pictures came. What a riot! They never realized before how funny they looked.

31. Grid team kicked out! Darn it!

NOVEMBER —

3. Played Arlington in football—skunked us!
 4. No school today. Teachers went to a meeting at Toledo. Yippee!
 7. Juniors' rings came. My, are we proud!
 9. Retakes for the annual. I wish the boys wouldn't flirt with Mr. Livingston's helpers.
 10. Played Rawson—Lost—"Ain't it Awful?"
 11. No school—Armistice Day. Why don't they have more holidays.
 15. Out of school. What? Just to let Bob go hunting?
 18. Chapel by Freshmen on "Fellowship". Dick B. and Margaret B. really know all about it, too.
 23. Chapel by Seniors. Are they good!
 - 24-25. We're on a vacation these two days. Aren't we glad the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth? What we owe our forefathers!
 29. The Seniors gave the play "Your Face is Familiar". What a scream! I always did think Max and Joe were sissys. Now, I know it!
- Time Marches On!

DECEMBER —

1. Seniors' pictures arrived. My, aren't they p-e-r-r-t-y!
2. Chapel Program on Excelsior. Rev. Alspach was the speaker.
9. Chapel Program given by Mr. Vinaroff and Mr. Smith.
- Played Arcadia at Arcadia. We beat them . . . Yippee!!!
12. Seniors' home room changed to the assembly. I wonder why?
13. Played Dunkirk at McComb and we lost. Darn it!
15. Sophomores had a party at Charlotte Brumbaugh's. What a time!
- High school dance at Municipal Hall.
16. Played Van Buren at Van Buren. Lost!!! Our basketball record isn't going to be like our football is it?
22. Freshmen party at Mary Gazarek's. Oh, these Freshies!
23. Played Blanchard—Lost ugh!!!
- Signing off until next year. Am going on Christmas vacation.
- 23 to January 3. Christmas vacation gave us a few days of freedom, but here we are back at the old grind.

JANUARY —

6. The first basketball game in '39 at Liberty. Maybe our luck is changing. We hope. The boys won, but alas, the girl lost.
- 9-14. Dear old Exam time! How can we possibly cram so much in such a short time? That's it, we can't!
10. North Baltimore here to show us how that thrilling game of basketball is played, and they did! The score: N. B. 41, McComb 16.
13. Student Council, now known by more authoritative name of Juvenile Assembly, is working at full speed making laws. They are such ambitious souls!
- Chapel Program given by the Freshmen on "Work". They SHOULD know what that means by now.
- Mt. Cory came here for a basketball game. We BEAT!
20. Another basketball game. This time at Vanlue. I say, we had a jolly old time, old chap! Three cheers for Mr. Cramer.
- Seniors gave chapel on "Self Reliance" with Mr. Shoupe, the editor, as speaker.
- 12-23. Mr. Parrett was absent due to the death of his brother. I'm sure we're all very glad to see him return. How about it Latin students?

23. Picture shows today on sugar beets and the Peony Fields. Hurrah for Van Wert's beauties! (Blondes).

24. McComb played Dunkirk there. We took a bus load of cheers as well as the regular bus for the teams. Swell! Let's try it again!

26. Chapel Program on Cooperation.

Basketball game. Arlington here, and did McComb ever shine. By winning both games we're really on the "Road to Glory" now.

27-28. Community Institute. No classes in the morning. Why not have more Institutes.

30. Sophomore English class decreased. At least we had fun while it lasted.

31. Sophomore English class back to normal but writing weekly themes of 500 words.

FEBRUARY —

1. Time flies on the "China Clipper". Today Hall's Hardware Co. gave a picture show (which we didn't get to see).

3. Chapel on "Living" by the Sophomores .

Rawson here. Red and black displayed their colors and marched on to victory.

7. A cleverly illustrated lecture on "Temperance" given by Rev. Fry of Findlay. What's that old rhyme about "a pint of gin and a pile of tin"?

10. Chapel in honor of the birthday of that beloved hero of Civil War days, Abraham Lincoln.

An unusually gay Junior Class party at Bernice Ramsey's home, with a grand scavenger hunt.

11. Another party. Freshmen class party at the home of Ellen Hanes. What progress in growing up these Freshies have made! We hope! Aw Gee! Their very first date!

15. Rev. Fry returned to lead discussions among the students on "Temperance".

16. Tournament Time again, holding us breathless as usual. Breathless? You said it! The score: McComb 28, and Mt. Blanchard 27. They can't stop us now.

17. Chapel by Freshmen on "Behavior".

Sophomore class party with a scavenger hunt as the main feature. The Sophomores had a good time cleaning the lunchroom. Dead cats!

18. Tournament games. Again we soar to unknown heights by defeating Rawson.

21. "Win the Tournament or Bust!" "Busted!" Cory downed McComb with a score of 37 to 21.

23. Consolation game. Arcadia finished putting McComb out of the running by topping our score. Too bad, boys.

24. Chapel theme of Patriotism struck a vital chord. Dear old U. S. A.

28. 12 o'clock. Impromptu vacation. Lots of fun (if you don't have the "flu").

MARCH —

6. Back to school. Why must all nice things end so quickly?

7. For Men Only! A Father and Son Banquet at the school house. Hi, Pop.

10. Another temperance program but in Chapel this time.

17. St. Patrick's Day: A bit of green, a bit of Irish, and a three-leaf clover spells St. Patrick's day.

20. Lecture on Sugar Beets by Mr. Larke, assistant editor of Sugar Beet Journal.

Donkey basketball game at the school house. Dale, I think you and W. P. A. have something there.

23. Agriculture boys went practical and trimmed grape vines.

24. Annual Athletic Banquet for all our heroes and heroines of athletics.

Martha Hawks, the witch and proprietress of the inn, was played by Ruth Carney, while the proprietor Tod Miller was played by Junior Latta.

CLASS OF 1940

Joyous Juniors are they and Jovial, jolly fellows all;
 Undefeated, they declare and Undaunted if they fall;
 Nightly burn midnight oil and Never quail at ceaseless toil;
 Interested in what's best and In what will please the rest;
 Overcome their handicaps and Opportunities they grasp;
 Rarely ever quite on time and Romp to class right on the line;
 Study so hard over Sunday and Snatch forty winks on Monday.

The City Market

A colored woman came to the plantation office to receive her wages, being unable to write, she had always made an X on the receipt but this time she drew a circle.

Clerk: "Why didn't you make an X as usual?"

Woman: "Ah done got married yesterday an' changed my name."

* * *

A visiting Englishman: "The increasing divorce rate is rapidly making America the land of the free, all right."

A henpecked American: "Yes, but the marriage rate is increasing too, showing that America's still the home of the brave."

21. Girls' Day in Chapel.

25. P. T. A. Softball teams go to Arcadia to play.

28. Chapel program given by Bluffton College. Very interesting.

We play softball with Mt. Cory, at Mt. Cory.

M A Y —

5. Chapel program in honor of those outstanding aged Seniors as they leave us. Maybe we should say, as we get rid of them. Eh?

F. F. A. Father and Son Banquet.

11. Our spring musical under direction of Miss Moyer.

19. Junior and Senior Banquet. Say, those Juniors really know how to entertain!

21. Baccalaureate Sermon.

22. Commencement Exercises. To-day we bid our last good-byes to the honorable Seniors as they joined the ranks of alumni.

23. School out! Yippee!! At last we're free! (Till Sept.).

J O K E S

Hank: "There goes a fellow who seems to take the worst possible view of things."

Frank: "Is he a pessimist, then?"

Hank: "No, he's an amateur photographer." (Could that be Pee Wee?)

* * * *

Ruth M.: "Why are you late for school?"

Junior L.: "I would have made it here on time, but as I was running I came to a sign saying, 'School Ahead. Go Slow'."

* * * *

Myrtle B.: "How can I keep my feet from going to sleep?"

Gerry: "Don't let them turn in."

* * * *

Mr. Daniel: "Have you got your graph?"

Roxie A.: "I haven't got all my curves yet."

* * * *

Mr. Winter: "May a notice of dishonor be oral?"

Chuck S.: "Yes, if it's written."

* * * *

Bernice K., in a civics test: "In a straw vote the person who gets the longest straw wins the election."

* * * *

Cop: "You were going too fast, that's why I had to arrest you."

Herman D.: "I wasn't going fast enough. That's why you caught me."
